

Articles or business flyers are now being accepted for inclusion in the TWF Resource Booklet, which is distributed to each attendee of our annual women's conference.

The conference will be held on Thursday, March 24, 2005, at the Tracy Community Center. This year's theme is "Cultivate Your Power." The TWF motto remains the same—to inspire and inform the women of Tracy and the surrounding areas.

It's easy as 1, 2, 3.

1. Pay only $50
2. Provide 250 copies of your one-page article or flyer by February 24, 2005 (it can be two-sided)
3. Meet the criteria outlined below:

CRITERIA

The article or flyer must be relevant to women, and should provide some form of instruction, encouragement, or information that aid in the quality of life for women.

There are three broad categories that the articles/flyers will be published under:

1. Wellness (physical and mental health, exercise, dietary, etc.)
2. Family (child development, relationships, money management, social services, home improvement, estate planning, etc.)
3. Personal Enrichment (employment, education, beauty, cosmetic alternatives, etc.)

TWF Board of Directors reserves the right to refuse any article or flyer that we deem inappropriate for our targeted audience.

This year's speakers are:

Debra Pestrak - Motivational Speaker, Corporate Trainer and Personal Coach

Zondra Evans - Executive Director, Empowering Women

Melissa B. Stevenson - Biologues, Women in History

Denise Spiller - Editor-in-Chief, Up! With Learning

Pat McConahay, Co-host, Producer/Reporter of California Heartland (KVIE) will be the Master of Ceremony
